Happy uplift day – Version 16 is here!

The wait is over and your new, more efficient, more stylish version of EventsAir is rolling out today!

Today's release also includes a number of improvements and fixes, updates to our Public API, and more. Get all the updates here...

[Note: If you're pinned, including if you're a Rising Star institution, you'll receive this update later. Our help resources are being updated so you'll be able to easily see differences between versions where you need to. In any case, we're confident you'll see we haven't changed your workflows, just made things easier to find and use!]

AirTime 2024 registrations about to close!

If you're loving the above and curious about what's coming next, join us at the AirTime conference, kicking off next week in the USA!

We'll be unveiling our 2025 Roadmap and showcasing how we're enhancing your future event planning experience.

Education webinar November

Our November Education webinar will be a little earlier than usual, so keep your eye on your email inbox for an invitation to our November 6 webinar. We'll be chatting with our UX Lead, Warren Prasek, all about the new design and how it'll help you be more efficient.
